Korean Reds Force Down a U.S. Copter

By CHARLES S. CHIN

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Communist North Korea said its ground forces fired on and forced down a U.S. Army helicopter today just north of the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea.

The Reds said the plane was damaged badly.

There was no announcement of the fate of the two American pilots, Capt. Ben Weakley Stutts and Capt. Charleston W. Voltz.

The disclosure that the helicopter was brought down by gunfire was made by the senior North Korean delegate to the Military Armistice Commission.

The U.N. Command had told the commission earlier that the helicopter made an emergency landing on the north side of the Han River estuary in Red territory 17 miles northwest of Seoul. The U.N. Command requested that the Communists return the pilots and the aircraft immediately.

The Communist delegate called the flight an intentional breach of the armistice agreement but evaded a direct reply to the request for return of the men and the helicopter. In a similar case in 1958 an American pilot was returned in 11 days.

A U.N. spokesman said the officers were making a routine check of identification markers along the south side of the demilitarized zone the 1953 armistice established to separate the two Koreas.

The spokesman said Stutts and Voltz were experienced pilots who were familiar with the area.

U.S. Marine Maj. Gen. George H. Cloud, the senior U.N. member of the Mixed Armistice Commission, made the request for the return of the men and the helicopter at a commission meeting at Panmunjom.

Cloud told the Communists the violation of North Korean territory was intentional.

Maj. Gen. Chang Chung-wan, the chief North Korean delegate, retorted that the flight over Red soil was "part of the U.S. imperialists' hostile activities in Korea." He said such experienced pilots could not have made a navigational error.

Cloud replied that in the past the U.N. command has admitted frankly any violation by its forces of the armistice agreement. He said the command would take appropriate measures to punish the two pilots as specified by the armistice agreement if it was proved they had erred.

Reception for Cooper Is Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Astronaut Gordon Cooper's reception by President Kennedy at the White House is being delayed for 24 hours until Tuesday—to give the globe-circling Air Force major "more breathing time."

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the ceremony will be held at 12:15 p.m. EDT Tuesday in the rose garden just outside Kennedy's office.

Originally, the reception was to have been held at that hour on Monday.

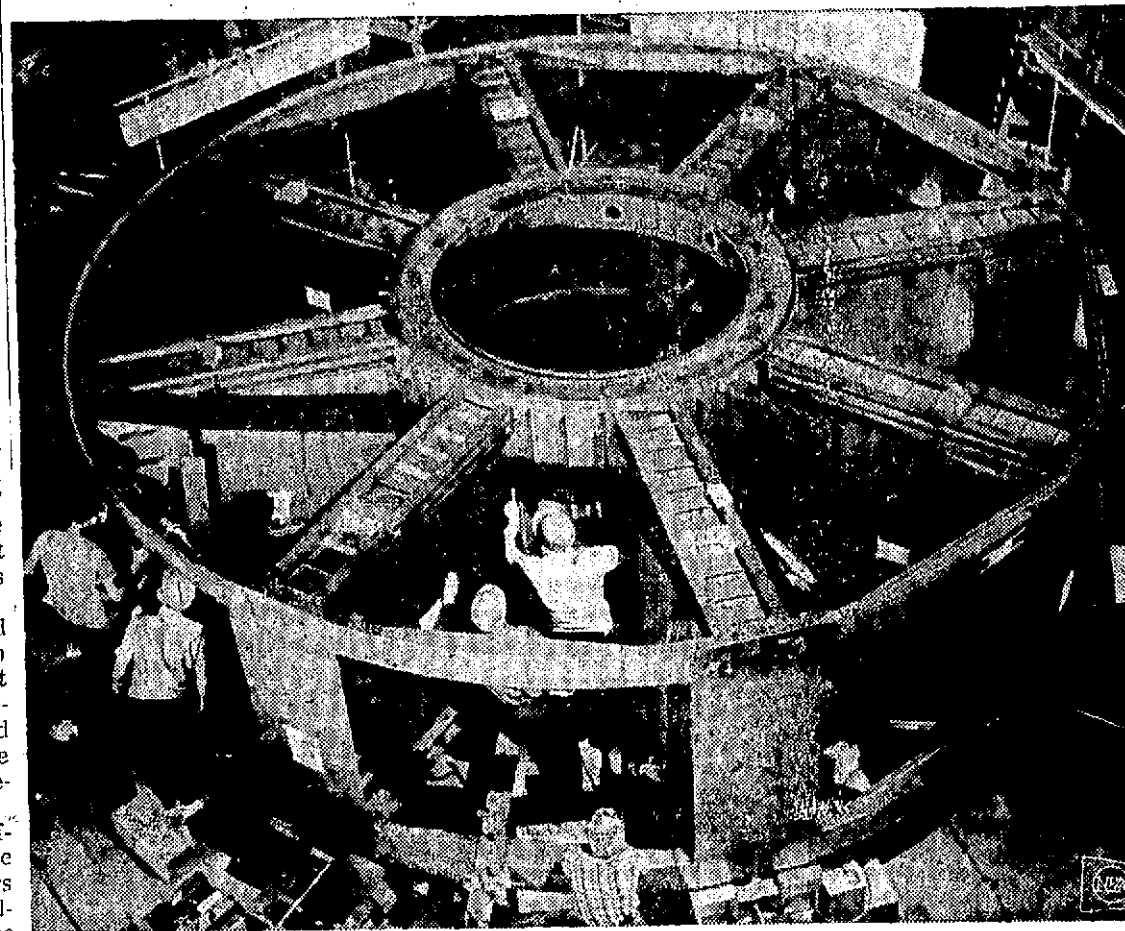

Asked if the postponement reflected any exhaustion on Cooper's part from his 34-hour flight through space, Salinger said, "No, there's none of that."

He said Cooper will go ahead with plans to hold a news conference Sunday at Cape Canaveral, Fla., and simply would set aside Monday as a day of rest.

Cooper will be flown to Andrews Air Force Base, Md., from Cape Canaveral aboard an Air Force jet Tuesday morning. He will hop by helicopter from Andrews to the White House.

MRS. COOPER AND GUEST — Mrs. Gordon Berry, wife of the chief of medical operations for Mercury Space Center, Mrs. James Lovell, astronaut trainee, Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. John Young, astronaut trainee wife. Cooper circled the globe 22 times and landed safely.

RING AROUND THE ROCKETS—Workmen put finishing touches on a major sub-assembly for the 1.5-million-pound thrust S-1 booster, or first stage, of the giant Saturn rocket. Made by Chrysler at the Marshall Space Flight Center's Michoud plant in New Orleans, the structure—10 feet high and 20 feet in diameter—will transmit thrust from the booster's eight engines to the Saturn rocket structure. Saturn is the vehicle which will eventually carry American astronauts to the moon.

Negroes Call off Sit-ins in New Jersey

By CHARLES K. SERGIS

ENGLEWOOD, N.J. (AP)—Negro parents called off a planned sit-in at two predominantly white schools today and met with the superintendent of schools to discuss a precedent-setting state decision against racial imbalance.

It was in the light of that decision, laid down Thursday by the state education commissioner, that the sit-in demonstration set for Roosevelt and Burles schools were canceled.

Frederick M. Raubinger, state education commissioner, in a case involving the Oakwood school of Orange, ruled that the city of Orange must correct racial imbalance at Oakwood, which has a 99 per cent Negro enrollment.

Negro parents, accompanied by Councilman Vincent K. Tibbs, went to school Supt. Mark R. Shedd's office today to discuss the effect of the decision on Englewood. The group included six parents and one grandparent of children attending Englewood's Lincoln school, which has a 98 per cent Negro enrollment.

A group of Negro parents have been boycotting the school since Feb. 26.

Living Together Biggest Problem

WATERVILLE, Maine (AP)—Chief Justice Earl Warren said today that despite the challenge posed by modern technological strides, mankind's biggest problem is still that of learning to live together.

"The world is in travail today because we have not learned this lesson," Warren told a convocation marking the end of Colby College's year-long sesquicentennial observance.

Warren was presented an honorary doctorate in law degree by the college. The citation accompanying his degree noted it was nine years ago that he, as chief justice, read the U.S. Supreme Court's historic decision outlawing racial segregation in public schools.

AIC Refuses to Change Old Ruling

By WICK TEMPLE

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Legislative Council refused today to change its rules to provide that only its chairman and vice chairman can be paid expenses for attending meetings around the state.

The Rules Committee proposed that only the chairman and vice chairman receive per diem pay and mileage for meetings concerning council business.

Under the present rule, which remains in effect, the chairman can designate other council members to attend such meetings and draw expenses.

Reps. Paul Dalsem of Perry County and John Bethell of Prairie County said changing the rules would embarrass them since they were parties to a taxpayer's suit. The suit covers a wide range of governmental expenses, including expenses of some council members.

In a heated speech Bethell said some persons and newspapers "are trying to embarrass the entire Legislature with the suit and public comments on how the state spends its money."

Bethell said criticism of individual legislators is a matter of free speech but added, "I don't believe any citizen has the right to criticize the entire system of government we've got."

Sen. Robert Harvey of Swifton was the only council member voting for the rules change.

Chairman Jack Oakes (Woodruff County) of the Rules Committee seconded the motion not to accept the new rule.

Van Dalsem said changing the rules at this point would be admitting that the council had been wrong in allowing its members expense money. He said it would hurt the state's cause in the suit.

The council approved an amendment to its rules which would permit council members, during budget hearings, to offer amendments to proposed budgets without requiring a vote on the entire budget.

The council added a rule to permit the council chairman to designate council members to represent the council at national and regional meetings of state officials.

This practice has been being followed without benefit of a rule.

No Union Represented at Plant

Lead Strike LR10 dd 17

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP)—The Emerson Electric Co., notified workers at its Paragould plant today that recent developments indicate the plant is now without union representation.

The International Union of Electrical Workers called off Thursday an 11-month-old strike against Emerson and notified the National Labor Relations Board that it no longer represented a majority of Emerson employees.

The NLRB held a hearing in Paragould Thursday on a request by non-striking workers for an election to decertify the union. The matter was taken under advisement.

The IUE's Local 767 called the strike last June in a dispute over fringe benefits.

Emerson hired, picking up third grad LR10 and eliminating fifth grad: "Announcement x x x was announced."

Buddhists Will Fight for Equality

HUE, South Viet Nam (AP)—A Buddhist leader said today Buddhists will sacrifice themselves to the last man to obtain equality of religion in South Viet Nam. The statement came from Thich Tri Quang, monk superior of the Central Viet Nam Buddhist Association.

Despite concessions made by President Ngo Dinh Diem to head off more trouble with the Buddhists, Vietnamese officials admitted privately they are deeply concerned. U.S. officials said the situation remains potentially explosive.

Diem, a Roman Catholic, governs a nation of 14 million persons, 90 per cent of them Buddhists.

Would Clamp Down on Big Meat Packers

Legislation which would prevent large meat packers from engaging in the retail sale of meats, dairy and poultry products or eggs and would eliminate further entrance into the livestock and poultry feeding industry by chain stores was endorsed by the directors of the Southwest Arkansas Poultry Producers Association at a meeting held Monday night at Bodcaw.

A hearing on this proposed legislation (House Bill 1706) was held Tuesday and Wednesday this week by the House Agricultural Committee, the bill having been introduced by Representative James Roosevelt (D. Calif.). A similar bill (S 1270) has been introduced in the Senate by Senator George McGovern (D. So. Dak.).

In making the motion to support this legislation Arthur M. Wimmell, McCaskill, pointed out that one chain has approximately a million broilers on feed at all times, these being used to control market prices in their area. The same chain also has beef cattle on feed for the same purpose, he said.

Other chains have thousands of head of cattle on feed at all times particularly in the Denver area, and a number of chains have established egg production plants, according to Wimmell, who raises cattle as well as broilers.

Not only will this legislation, if approved by the Congress as an amendment to the Packers and Stockyards Act of 1921, help broiler, egg, dairy and beef producers, but will help preserve the independent feed dealer, the small meat packer and the poultry and egg processors, said T. J. Silvey, of Bodcaw, president of the local association.

The regular monthly meeting of the Southwest Arkansas Poultry Producers Association will be held Monday night, May 20, at Bodcaw beginning at 7:30. The program will feature an interview with Dal Ferry, executive director of the U.S. Poultry and Egg Producers Association, as reported at length in the May issue of the trade publication, Broiler Industry. Mr. Ferry is the man credited with having speeded up the Packers and Stockyards investigation of the broiler industry. The program will also include a panel discussion of improved management practices for raising broilers and producing eggs.

In the absence of President Silvey, who will be attending graduate school at the University of Arkansas this summer, Vice President Wimmell will preside. All broiler and egg producers are invited, whether members or not.

Tension mounted aboard this big ship and at the launch headquarters in Cape Canaveral, Fla., where Cooper had blasted off Wednesday morning.

Cooper would have to fire his rockets manually and also personally adjust the vital descent attitude of Faith 7.

Lands Perfectly After 22 Trips Around World

By RALPH DIGHTON

ABOARD USS KEARSARGE (AP)—Astronaut Gordon Cooper was merely a bit woozy when he finished a 34-hour trip into space—and thereby may have hastened the day when man lands on the moon.

Cooper, 36, expressed confidence that "We have learned a lot from this mission for future, more extended space operations."

The spaceman's perilous descent to his exactly predicted impact point 86 miles southeast of Midway Island Thursday afternoon was full of drama and heroism. But his physical condition was what most pleased space agency doctors examining him today.

Ben James, National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman aboard this recovery ship, said the medical men were "very happy with Cooper's condition. In layman's language, you would say his condition is normal."

"The only thing he did experience was about 15 seconds of being woozy after he stepped out of his Faith 7 capsule. This was normal and expected."

The tests and the engineering debriefing sessions will continue until Cooper is flown from the Kearsarge to Honolulu Saturday afternoon for a parade and public reception.

Their results will require long evaluation, but optimism was evident that the main stated objective of this longest American space journey had been reached.

This was: "Study the effects of approximately one day in orbital flight on the astronaut; verify that man can function in space as a primary 'system' aboard the spacecraft modified for a full-day mission."

The Soviets remained far ahead in orbits and flight lengths, with a record of 64 and 48 revolutions last August. But they have divulged little of their cosmonauts' condition.

American space agency doctors had expressed fears beforehand that Cooper might faint—or worse—when he came down. They obviously were delighted he did not.

President Kennedy, who congratulated the Oklahoma Air Force major by telephone a few minutes after he hit the deck, told the nation on radio and television that Cooper's feat "represents a great achievement for our society and a great achievement for free men and women."

"Peace has her victories as well as war, and this was one of the victories for the human spirit today."

Cooper's spirit did not falter when near the end of a "text-book" flight his capsule developed electrical difficulties.

He was in the 19th orbit when a light snapped on which was intended to do so only as he fired his reverse rockets. The automatic control system was haywire in some inexplicable manner.

Tension mounted aboard this big ship and at the launch headquarters in Cape Canaveral, Fla., where Cooper had blasted off Wednesday morning.

Cooper would have to fire his rockets manually and also personally adjust the vital descent attitude of Faith 7.

space, undertook to talk him down. Glenn was aboard the tracking ship Coastal Sentry off southern Japan.

Manual re-entry was not a novel situation. Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter experienced similar trouble—but as a result landed well off target.

Calmly, Cooper responded "roger" or "okay" to Glenn's counsel, and on the 22nd orbit they started the count-down together. A mistake of a single second in firing any of the three reverse rockets could mean a landing error of seven miles. A few seconds away could spell disaster after 500,000 miles of smooth sailing.

The Kearsarge, where a happy outlook had turned to tension, sent up her search and rescue planes. Imperturbably, Cooper fired his rockets as he soared over the Red China coast near Shanghai. Soon the Kearsarge radar scope located an object 84 miles high, out of sight above thin clouds.

The waiting men aboard the Kearsarge and two destroyers on station shortly heard the reverberating thunderclap of a sonic boom.

A rainbow-like halo glowed around the sun.
The Faith 7 popped into view almost dead ahead, dangling gently from its 63-foot red and white striped parachute. The crew shouted gaily.

Scorched by its fall through the atmosphere but solid and intact, it plumped into the 5-foot waves. First official estimates put it a mere 7,000 yard of the port bow, but it finally was fixed at 4.4 nautical miles, 8,300 yards. "I'm in fine shape," Cooper raised. He had been aloft 34 hours, 20-1/2 minutes.

Helicopter 51 dropped frogmen who affixed flotation gear to the capsule. A whaleboat smartly towed it alongside and a crane lifted it onto the hangar deck's elevator No. 3.

Cooper blew off the hatch and Dr. Richard L. Pollard of the space agency crawled in and took his blood pressure.

Cooper crawled out backward, smiling but evidently giddy.

Many congratulatory radio-grams poured in from public officials. The Senate passed an official resolution of congratulations. Kennedy invited the new space hero and his family to the White House Monday.

Cooper then underwent a two-hour preliminary medical examination before being permitted to retire to the admiral's inboard cabin.

Cooper's long flight is expected to be the last of the Mercury series. Brainerd Holmes, director of Manned Space Flight, said there was less than a 50 per cent chance that there would be another.

The next step is the Gemini program—two men in one vehicle—at least 18 months in the future. The next step after Gemini is a manned landing on the moon, predicted in this decade.

Cooper, affectionately nicknamed "Gordo" after a cartoon character, "acted effectively as a human computer," Holmes said.

The "computer" will have a more human interlude a day from now.

On midday Saturday he will fly from this ship to Hickam Air Force Base, Honolulu, where wife Trudy and daughters Camala and Janita will be awaiting him. It was in Honolulu as a student at the University of Hawaii, that Cooper met Trudy in 1946.

After a parade, a civic reception and a visit with the Hawaii governor, John A. Burns, he and his family will depart by jet for his starting point, Cape Canaveral, at 1:30 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Sunday.

DOROTHY DIX

HUSBAND'S COUSIN A DRONE
By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My married life would be wedded bliss were it not for my husband's lazy, inefficient 23-year-old cousin.

We'd no sooner returned from our honeymoon four years ago than he appeared, cap in hand, out of a job. My husband, who is very kindhearted, said, "Stay with us till you find work." And so it has been—off and on ever since.

His present "visit" has lasted six months. True, he does help with a certain amount of household chores but usually bumbles to such an extent that I only have time to do over. His intelligence quotient is one notch above moron, which makes it difficult for him to find anything but unskilled labor jobs.

He is alone in the world save for distant relatives in another state. Nobody but us will help him. Once in desperation, out of work and no place to go (we were away at the time), he attempted to rob a gas station, characteristically bungled the job, and got a two-year prison sentence. He was rejected from military service because of emotional instability and while in an alcoholic rage (he drinks too), almost choked our little son to death because the child was crying and he wanted to sleep.

He watches TV from seven p.m. to two a.m. and is prone to show up with rowdy friends who drink, swear and shout till the neighbors complain. In desperation, my husband found him a job as ditch-digger. The cousin turned it down, haughtily saying, "I was made for better things." Now he refuses to take the job I found him as stock boy in a drugstore for the same reason. He is six feet four, weighs 200 pounds and eats like a horse. I fear that if we suggest he leave he might kill us all.

Dear Helen: Nine months ago I married for love—a man my own age, 75. He took me to live in a dilapidated apartment. Two weeks later I found out that our landlady was his mistress. She is 62 and has a sick husband. I blame her for making my man a cheat and a liar. Should I confront them with the truth? My family approved of our marriage, but it's my money which keeps us.—Heartbroken

Dear Heartbroken: It would seem that you leaped before you looked into this marriage. If the facts are as stated, be realistic. The landlady and your husband are evidently two of a kind. Hang on to your money and seek either an annulment or divorce. Check with the local Domestic Relations Court.

Dear Helen: After reading about that would-be minister who wanted to join a nudist camp, I am taking time out from my spring housecleaning to rush his poor, hapless wife my sympathy via your column. If his heart doesn't change, may he never be-

Texarkana Gets Loan for Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — A loan of $7,635,000 to Cooper Tire & Rubber Co., Findlay, Ohio, has been approved by the Area Redevelopment Administration to help finance a new $11 million plant at Texarkana.

Texarkana will put up $2,200,000 from proceeds of a bond issue to help finance the plant, which will have about 400 employees and a payroll of $2,880,000. The Texarkana Industrial Development Corporation will add another $1 million.

Summer's coming, get going!

If this isn't a great time to get yourself a new Chevrolet—well, we just don't know when it is. Why, you'd almost have to be anti-summer not to let one of these four convertibles get to you. Or any of Chevrolet's sedans, wagons, sport coupes and sport sedans, for that matter.

And there are a lot of other buy-now reasons besides the season. Like the care-free feeling you get on a long vacation trip in a brand-new car. And it's a smart time to trade, what with your Chevrolet dealer all stocked up for a busy summer. Chances are, he has just the model and color you want—be it Chevrolet, Chevy II, Corvair or Corvette—ready to go right now.

So maybe now you're all wound up? Then spring into summer at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Some Facts About Life in Arkansas

By J. C. TILLMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Harold Mabry of near De Queen has a redbird that may not be long for the world unless he wises up.

The bird discovered his image in a window and for the past several weeks has been carrying on a vicious battle with it.

Mabry reports that the bird is beginning to weaken, and may soon be battered into realizing that his Quixotic battle is hopeless.

Jake Lord, who lives in the same neighborhood, has an albino bluebird.

This week is Cotton Week in Mississippi County and store clerks who are aware of the good qualities of the product may benefit.

A team of "mystery shoppers" will go shopping in stores at Blytheville, Manila and Leachville. As they shop they'll test sales clerks on their awareness of cotton products.

Those passing the test get a silver dollar.

The Jonesboro Jaycees are raising money with a Mutt Derby.

The owner of the dog pays a dollar to enter the animal. He takes it to the starting line, hands the pet over to a handler, then walks to the finish line, 60 yards away.

At a signal the dogs are to be released, with the idea they will run straight to their owners. The fastest one wins.

Spectators get to watch for a quarter.

Twelve-year-old Gary Harper of Lincoln, Ark. is wondering if anyone can top his catch of an 11-pound buffalo on tackle.

McClellan May Probe Corruption

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., disclosed today he is exploring allegations of gross corruption involving $100 million of U.S. foreign aid to Iran.

McClellan announced his Senate Investigations subcommittee, at a special meeting Wednesday, had received the allegations and supporting documentary evidence from the Khabbar Khan, leader of the Bakhtiari tribe of Iran.

"These documents, if corroborated, point to gross corruption and misuse of funds in excess of $100 million in connection with the administration of U.S. aid to Iran," McClellan said in a statement.

Would Drop Some Duties World Over

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

GENEVA (AP)—Christian A. Herter, President Kennedy's chief trade negotiator, called today for unanimous approval by the world's great trading nations of a project for doing away with customs duties on tropical products as a way of helping poorer countries.

He spoke to delegates representing 75 nations. They opened a week-long conference today which could become history's most far-reaching attack on barriers to world trade.

Herter endorsed a five-point program asking:

1. Free access to markets for tropical products.

2. Agreement that unstable prices and low earnings for their products are the main economic problems of tropical countries.

3. A standstill on any move to build new barriers against tropical products, until action is taken to remove old ones.

4. Special attention to charges levied on home markets that limit sales of tropical products—like the big taxes some European countries put on coffee.

5. A decision that the attack on barriers to trade in tropical products be handled as part of the next big round of international tariff cutting.

Anniversary of Ruling on Segregation

EDITOR'S NOTE—Today is the ninth anniversary of a landmark legal decision, an action ranking in historic importance beside the Dred Scott decision. On May 17, 1954, the U.S. Supreme Court held that segregation in the public schools is unconstitutional. It ordered desegregation "with all deliberate speed." The repercussions have been wide and deep, felt in the North as well as the South, and are linked with Negro demands for change in fields other than the schools.

Relman Morin, Associated Press Special Correspondent and Pulitzer Prize winner, reported the civil rights trial of the "Clinton 15" in Tennessee, the riots at Little Rock, Ark., and Oxford, Miss., and most recently the events at Birmingham, Ala. In this report, he summarizes nine years of developments stemming from the historic Supreme Court ruling.

By RELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

At noon, May 17, 1954, the United States Supreme Court outlawed racial segregation in the public schools, striking at the foundations of a century-old social barrier, and opening a new sector in the battle over civil rights.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, reading the 9-0 decision, intoned the key passage:

"In the field of public education, the doctrine of 'separate but equal' has no place. Separate educational facilities are inherently unequal."

"We come then to the question presented: Does segregation of children in public schools solely on the basis of race, even though physical facilities and other 'tangible' factors may be equal, deprive the children of the minority group of equal opportunity? We believe that it does."

Nine years ago today the ruling became history.

The ninth anniversary comes against a backdrop of dangerous racial strife in Birmingham, Ala., disturbances in Nashville, Tenn., and Negro sympathy demonstrations in a number of Northern cities.

When the court handed down the decision, segregation was mandatory in 17 Southern and border states and the District of Columbia.

Today, desegregation of elementary and high schools, in varying degrees, has taken place in all but three states—Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina.

In the 18 areas, 257,628 Negro children are enrolled in previously all-white schools.

The District of Columbia, with 87,749, and Maryland, with 62,121, account for about half the total Negro children in desegregated schools.

The statistics were compiled by the Southern Education Reporting Service, which describes itself as an "impartial fact-finding agency directed by a board of Southern newspaper editors and educators under grant from the Ford Foundation."

Nine thunderous, history-packed years.

Many names are indelibly printed in these pages now.

Atherine Lucy, enrolling in the University of Alabama, and then, concealed on the floor of a highway patrol car, escaping a mob yelling "Lynch her! Kill her!"

Virgil Hawkins, fighting for years to enter the law school of the University of Florida.

Gov. Orval W. Faubus, ringing a high school in Little Rock with Arkansas National Guardsmen when a federal court ordered authorities to admit eight Negro children.

James H. Meredith, the object of riots at the University of Mississippi in which two men were killed.

Many names.

And many unforgettable scenes. Exploding dynamite. Gunfire. Flashing knives. Rolling clouds of tear-gas. Burning buildings. Men's faces streaming blood. Women's faces working with hatred. Federal troops in Southern cities.

But there is another side to the picture.

In St. Louis, Baltimore and Wilmington, Del., integration was accomplished successfully although the proportion of Negroes ranged between 30 and 40 per cent of the total school enrollment.

In Louisville, Ky., city authorities worked quietly for two full years, preparing the community for desegregation—and then did it in one swift move, without incident.

Same Day Mail Service Planned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department plans to inaugurate same-day mail service in downtown North Little Rock, Ark., on June 7.

The department, in an announcement made today through Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said a letter mailed in the downtown area by 11 a.m. will be delivered in the same area by 3 p.m. the same day.

Such service was established recently in downtown Little Rock. Mills said he then requested similar service for North Little Rock.

Mills said he has asked the department to study the possibility of continuing the new rapid delivery service of Little Rock and North Little Rock so that a letter mailed in one downtown area before 11 a.m. could be delivered in the other downtown area before 3 p.m.

Businessmen at Birmingham Threatened

By JACK STILLMAN

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A desegregation pact aimed at ending this industrial city's racial unrest has the backing of some of Alabama's most prominent businessmen.

Their names were disclosed Wednesday night amid reports of a budding boycott of stores by white persons opposing the bi-racial agreement.

Both white and Negro leaders say they will stick to the agreement despite efforts to influence white shoppers to boycott downtown merchants.

Negroes, who launched a boycott a year ago in their campaign for desegregation, are appearing in greater numbers in the stores, but merchants report fewer white shoppers. The merchants are worried, and some say the city's economic plight, already bad, is becoming more serious.

Commission Mayor Arthur Hane and Police Commissioner Eugene (Ruf) Connor have called on white residents to boycott the downtown merchants in retaliation for the desegregation pact.

A spokesman for a citizens committee said release of the names of 77 persons asked to participate in efforts to solve the city's racial problems was designed to avert further violence and to head off a large scale white boycott. The spokesman said "only a few" of the 77 did not participate in the committee's efforts. They were not designated.

In Montgomery, Gov. George C. Wallace, an avid segregationist, accused President Kennedy of setting up a military dictatorship by sending special troops into Alabama for possible use in Birmingham. The governor promised to file a suit in federal court to test the legality of the President's order.

Kennedy ordered 3,000 combat-trained troops to Alabama bases for possible use in Birmingham after bloody rioting erupted in the city last weekend.

A Negro integration leader, the Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth Jr., was convicted in City Court of parading without a permit in a mass march April 12. He was sentenced to 180 days in jail, fined $100 and released under an appeal bond of $2,500.

River Survey to Cost More

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Army Engineer says expansion of a study of the Red River in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana to include all phases of development of the stream accounts for a $1.4 million increase in cost of the survey.

Maj. Gen. Ellsworth Davis, engineer for the Lower Mississippi Valley Division told a Senate Public Works Appropriations Subcommittee Wednesday that an interim report on the study would be submitted before June 30, 1965.

Davis said the study was originally on the problem of bank stabilization and to determine possibilities of navigation. It has been enlarged to take in development of the stream for flood control, navigation, bank stabilization, water supply and recreation, he said.

Davis said the enlarged scope of the study accounts for the increase in cost from an estimated $500,000 a year ago to $1.9 million now.

Photos of Thresher Debris

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP)—An oceanographic scientist said today photographs have been obtained of what appears to be debris on the ocean bottom where the nuclear submarine Thresher is believed lost with 129 men.

The announcement was made at Woods Hole, Mass., by Dr. Paul M. Fye, director of the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute, who said "It has not been confirmed that these small objects are from the submarine Thresher."

He also said that "no readily identifiable objects are shown, but the pictures are being analyzed and studied by scientists and Navy experts."

Dr. Fye said the photographs were dispatched immediately to the Navy court of inquiry at Portsmouth Naval Shipyard.

The court is trying to determine what caused loss of the Thresher during a deep-sea test dive 220 miles east of Boston April 10.

Dr. Fye said the photographs were taken by special cameras lowered to within 30 feet of the ocean bottom where the water is more than 8,000 feet deep.

The photographs were delivered to Woods Hole Wednesday by the research vessel Atlantis II.

Thursday he would call an election on a proposal to change from the mayor-council to the city manager form of government in the community. He did not set a date for the election. A similar proposal was defeated in 1958.

Orders End to Racial Imbalance

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—State Education Commissioner Frederic M. Raubinger ordered the Orange School Board today to end extreme racial imbalance in its Oakwood Elementary School.

In a decision creating a precedent for New Jersey schools, Raubinger said that although there was no intentional segregation of Negroes at the Oakwood school, the 98 per cent Negro enrollment there "constitutes under New Jersey law a deprivation of educational opportunity for the pupils compelled to attend the school."

Raubinger did not tell the school board specifically how to balance the enrollment at Oakwood school.

Park School has a 50 per cent wood school.

Raubinger ordered the board to submit a plan to him for approval by July 1 and to put it into effect for the 1963-64 school year.

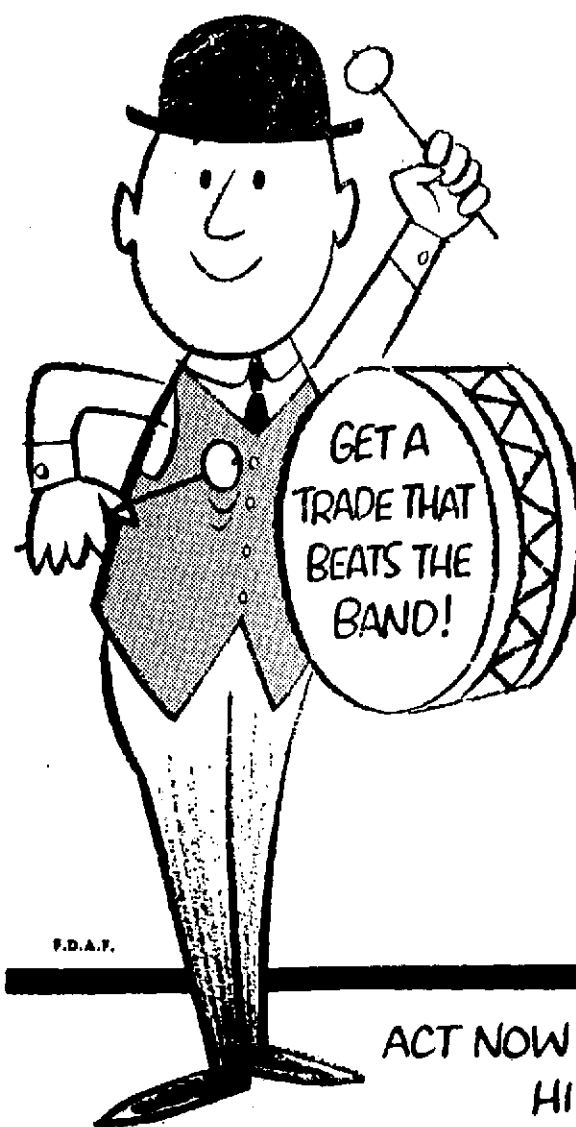

The issues in the Orange case were similar to those involved in Englewood where the Lincoln Elementary School has a 98 per cent Negro enrollment. The Englewood case also is before Raubinger. Hearings have been completed and briefs are due to be filed by the attorneys next month.

The Englewood case has been marked by two years of demonstrations, controversy and sit-ins.

U.S. Relaxing Vigil at Birmingham

By JACK STILLMAN

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The federal government shows signs of relaxing its vigil in Birmingham's racial situation and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's adviser on civil rights has returned to Washington.

Sheriff Melvin Bailey said, however, the authorities are apprehensive about the weekend. A 24-hour guard has been posted throughout the area of last week's rioting. About 200 heavily armed state patrolmen and conservation department officers are patrolling a 24-square block area.

"It's an uneasy quiet," Bailey said. "The weekend will cause more concern. It will be a critical period."

Asst. Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall, who went back to Washington Thursday, said he has no plans to return to this racially troubled city immediately. He said he believes the situation will be calmed through the cooperation of Birmingham people. Marshall was accompanied by an aide, Ed Guthman.

A deputy attorney general, Joseph Dolan, remained in Birmingham.

About 3,000 riot-trained soldiers are standing by at bases in Alabama, where they were ordered by President Kennedy after bloody rioting in Birmingham last weekend.

Alabama's fiery segregationist governor, George C. Wallace, who challenged the President's right to send in the troops, may meet Kennedy in North Alabama Saturday. Wallace hasn't committed himself, but sources close to the governor say he is expected to be on hand when the President takes part in a Tennessee Valley Authority observance.

Increases in factory and contract construction payrolls were noted. Factory jobs bucked the usual March to April decline, edging ahead 100,000 to 16.7 million. Contract construction jobs outdistanced the usual seasonal gain, rising 260,000 to 2.5 million for the first marked advance in this field in nine months.

The Commerce Department reported that retail trade for the week ended May 11 was an estimated $4.8 billion, up 1 per cent from the preceding week and 3 per cent from the comparable week of 1962.

The Doctor's Strange Secret

THE STORY: Elmbank is growing and many strange people are in town. Smokey, warns going out alone at night.

CHAPTER V

Perhaps he was being overcautious, but the strange people in town created many problems that I knew about. Even last spring the strange children had made themselves felt in our schools. With the first of September, the problem became a great one. Even in my school, at least in the ward least affected by the influx of workmen, on registration day my first grade was half again as big as usual. To ease the situation in the other schools, we were being asked to care for some of the overload. I found myself trying to teach 50 six-year-olds in a room designed to accommodate not more than 35. Twenty of my children were from transient families; the workmen would probably not stay in Elmbank. At least, not many of them. But their children must be cared for, meanwhile, and taught if at all possible, not only, I was to discover, the skills of reading and the mysteries of numbers, but habits which seemed basic and simple to the other children in my room. Teachers of the older grades had the same troubles.

Resident mothers of nicely raised children who protested the words their Johnnies and Susies were bring home from school. I'd had a panicky mother who found a house in Jimmie's hair.

When I told Smokey about our problems, he asked me to watch and see if the incidence of things like colds, impetigo and ringworm increased.

But the town was gradually learning about all its troubles. The matter of housing became a more severe headache every day. Trailers seemed to be the answer, and the trailers—singly, or even in small numbers—were good in themselves. But in great clusters of them, they presented aesthetic problems, and sanitary ones.

Parking became such a headache that two new taxi companies started up in business.

That summer and fall, whenever our group gathered to swim or play hoccie—or for an early-October cook-out at Smokey's—our talk covered all of Elmbank's problems.

Throughout the town there were heated arguments on the question: "Does Elmbank want progress at the price we are paying?"

In our own group, at least, the questions were many, and the answers few. Smokey called our troubles growing pains.

"Is there such a thing?" someone asked him.

"Not really," he admitted. "It probably involves symptoms of some deeper trouble."

We took the matter up again, with well-sustained interest, on that Wednesday "evening" in October.

Any time after 2 o'clock is evening in our part of Missouri. It had taken Smokey a while to learn this. Night was the black-dark part of the day's cycle.

Hickory smoke from the Howdershell barbecue brought several friends together on the brick terrace behind the big house.

This terrace was paved with old bricks, worn by several generations of feet. Clara called it a mud trap, meaning that it served to clean boots of men coming from the stables, no longer standing. Smokey called it a terrace, and he used it as such, developing it as a gathering place for his friends and neighbors. He built a stove and chimney of brick and used a portable metal grill more often. Small tables under nearby trees afforded us a place for intimate conversation, though most of us crowded around the grill.

Smokey had fired up the big stove about 4:30, explaining that he thought he must use the pleasant weather while it was available. Patsy Guffey was already on hand, having come home from school with Lovey.

Dr. Howdershell was barbecuing ribs. Bill and Dorothy decided to bring scalloped potatoes and pork chops. The Saputos smelled the smoke, and picked up their risotto and the makings of a salad, as well as their children. When they showed up, Clara announced that she would go visiting for a couple of hours. "I'll be back in time to clean up the kitchen," she promised.

I caught a whiff of the smoke when I came home from school — late because I had had a dozen things to do to get ready for the next day's work.

I changed from my suit to a gingham dress, and came downstairs again to stand, to quote Aunt Bean, like a hungry dog, looking over at Howdershells.

"Hey, Jannie!"

I turned so fast I almost fell. It was Smokey, standing before the holly bush at the corner of his house, a long fork in his hand, one of Clara's butcher aprons tied around his waist. "Come on over," he called, "and bring some seasoning salt if you have any."

He disappeared, not waiting for my answer.

More Jobs, Jobless U.S. Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's jobless rate edged upward last month despite new highs in employment and industrial production.

Thus, the economy continued to present a bitterly paradoxical picture: Business growing stronger, more Americans at work than ever before and joblessness persistently and stubbornly high.

On the bright side: The Labor Department reported over-all employment at a new record level of 68.9 million. The Federal Reserve Board reported the output of mines, mills and factories at a record 122.4 per cent of the 1957-59 average.

On the gloomy side: Joblessness stands at 5.7 per cent, a small increase from the 5.6 per cent of March.

Other figures released Thursday by the department and the reserve board:

April non-farm payrolls climbed by 800,000 to lift the job total to a record 53.9 million—"a substantially better than seasonal job expansion" according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Over-all unemployment dropped 400,000 to 4.1 million, a largely seasonal decline.

The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate showed an increase because of the great number of Americans joining the labor mar-

Autopsy Fails to Show Cause

MARION, Ark. (AP) — Deputy Pros. Atty. Julian B. Fogleman said today an autopsy failed to show whether James Paul Lindsey was murdered or struck and killed by an automobile.

Fogleman said the autopsy revealed only that Lindsey died of multiple internal and external injuries, including a brain hemorrhage.

Lindsey, a 20-year-old farm laborer from Twist, Ark., was found dead early Sunday on Highway 149, eight miles north of Earle. Authorities said he apparently had been hit by a car.

Five men told Crittenden County authorities Thursday that they fought with Lindsey the night of his death but left him alive in a field near the highway.

The five were identified as James Joseph Renfro, 19, of Marked Tree; Floyd Sills, 20, and Manuel Floyd, 19, both of Jonesboro, and Herman Lee Bell and Jerry Lane Darby, both 18, of Parkin.

Record Home Loans

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The 797 applications for insurance on single-family home loans in April may be a record for the state. Gaither C. Johnston, state director of the FHA, said he could find only two instances where the applications topped 700 — in March 1959 when 727 were filed and in September 1961, when 737 were received.

Gilliam Comes Off Bench, Win for Dodgers

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

For a guy without a store, Jim Gilliam is really giving everyone the business.

Gilliam, a sure-fingered infielder who loses his job every spring but winds up behind the counter once the rush season starts, scored the game's only run as the Los Angeles Dodgers edged Pittsburgh 1-0 Thursday night and moved into second place in the National League.

A 34-year-old switch-hitter, Gilliam loses his job to the Dodgers' latest phenom almost every spring. This time he stayed in the back room while heralded Nate Oliver took over at second base and the Dodgers experimented with Tommy Davis at third base.

With that lineup, the Dodgers found business a bit slow, so in came Gilliam. In the last nine games, Gilliam has hit at a .437 clip and during that stretch the Dodgers have won seven games while climbing up the standings.

Gilliam got the Dodgers started against the Pirates with his third single and eventually scored on Johnny Roseboro's two-out single in the ninth. Johnny Podres got the victory with a seven-hitter, leaving the Dodgers only three games behind first-place San Francisco.

The Giants got two-run homers from Willie Mays and Willie McCovey and nipped the New York Mets 6-5. The third-place Chicago Cubs beat Cincinnati 2-0. Milwaukee defeated St. Louis 5-2 and Philadelphia downed Houston 5-2.

In the American League, Boston took over first place by beating the Los Angeles Angels 3-0. Cleveland dropped Chicago to second by edging the White Sox 5-4 and Baltimore walloped Washington 9-1. The other clubs were not scheduled.

Mays had a perfect day at the plate, with his sixth homer, two singles and a walk in support of Billy O'Dell, who won his fifth without a loss. O'Dell was tagged for home runs by Cliff Cook, Ron Hunt and Chico Fernandez and needed Gaylord Perry's relief help to subdue the Mets. It was the Giants third straight victory at home, and shoved them over the 500 mark in Candlestick Park with a 9-8 record.

Ernie Banks' run-producing single in the seventh inning gave the Cubs the only run they needed and broke up a pitchers' duel between winner Larry Jackson, who permitted only six hits while bringing his record to 5-4, and Reds' starter Jim O'Toole, 6-3. Billy Williams drove in the other run with a single in the eighth after Lou Brock doubled.

The big blow for the Braves was a three-run homer by Eddie Mathews in the first inning that capped a four-run outburst against Cards' starter Ray Washburn, losing his third after winning his first five. Denny Lemaster got the victory, but lost his bid for a shutout when Stan Musial and Gene Oliver each homered in the ninth.

Don Demeter and Tony Gonzalez each drove in two runs. Tony Taylor collected three hits and batting leader Wes Covington chipped in with a double and a single for a .372 batting average as the Phils continued their mastery over the Colts. The victory was the Phils' 21st in 23 games against Houston since the Colts joined the NL last year. Ray Culp, 4-2, was the winner. Dick Drott took the loss.

Market Moves Irregular, Trading Off

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved irregularly early this afternoon with sugar issues the only strong group. Trading tapered off from the recent vigorous pace.

Some sugars made gains of 1 or 2 points but among key stocks generally the changes were fractional.

Oils, aerospace issues, and airlines were mostly firm. Steels, motors, utilities and rails — even though they edged up on average — were mixed.

Gordon Cooper's successful orbit had no noticeable effect on the space age stocks. McDonnell Aircraft, prime contractor for the Mercury space capsule, traded about unchanged.

The sugars continued to advance on the basis of a leaping price for sugar in the commodity market.

The background included news that employment and industrial production hit new peaks in April but the nation's jobless rate edged upward.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 2 at 273.4 with industrials up 4, rails up 2, and utilities up changed.

Once again the session was featured by large transactions in a variety of issues, in a reflection of some long-term profit taking and of rotation of interest from previous gainers to some stocks which have lagged behind the leaders.

Great A&P, reporting record sales and profits for fiscal 1963, rose 3/4 to 46 on an opener of 50,000 shares and widened the gain to a full point.

Central Aguirre Sugar was reported anticipating yearly profits double those of the previous year. The stock spurted 2 points. American Crystal Sugar also picked up a couple of points. Gains of a point were registered for Holly Sugar, South Puerto Rico Sugar dipped more than a point in another spate of profit taking.

TungSol fell more than 2 now that merger prospects have faded. Thatcher Glass was a 3-point loser. Hess Oil & Chemical dropped to 15 on a block of 11,500 shares.

Gains of around a point or so were made by Xerox, Polaroid, Eastern Airlines and Raytheon. Chrysler, American Airlines, General Electric, Du Pont and Air Reduction added fractions. U.S. Steel, Santa Fe and U.S. Gypsum lost fractions.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .34 at 722.50. Prices moved irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange in moderate trading.

Corporate bonds scored small gains. U.S. government bonds dipped fractionally.

Insecticide Danger Is Real Great

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's top science adviser said today contamination from uncontrolled use of pesticides and other poisonous chemicals is potentially a much greater hazard than radioactive fallout.

Dr. Jerome B. Wiesner declared emphatically, however, that "I'm not saying it is the situation today." He told a Senate Government Operations subcommittee that no one really knows yet the full story of the effects of pollution.

Wiesner gave the testimony at the start of hearings by the subcommittee on the entire range of pollution, including fallout from nuclear testing, pesticides, contaminating effects of some detergents, fumes from motor traffic, and others. It will consider the possible need for better government controls.

The President's Science Advisory Committee which Wiesner heads reported Wednesday that 150 Americans — half of them children — are killed each year through misuse of powerful pesticides.

The committee recommended speedy federal action to protect humanity and wild life by assuring more judicious use of chemical pesticides and stronger laws to control them.

Producer Must Pay Support

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former producer Sid Luft, who claims he is living on borrowed money, must pay $300 in monthly child support to his ex-wife, actress Lynn Bari.

Superior Court Thursday ordered Luft to make the payments for six months, at which time new hearing will be held to examine Luft's financial situation.

Co-op Gets Loan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $150,000 loan to the Rich Mountain Cooperative at Mena, Ark. has been approved by the Rural Electrification Administration. The loan will be used to finance construction of 2 1/2 miles of a distribution line that will serve 200 new customers.

MOST OUTSTANDING ARRANGEMENT OF THE HOPE Council of Garden Clubs' Annual Flower Show in the Youth Center Thursday was "Moon Magic," a Tri-Color by Mrs. Jim James of the Gardenia Club. Theme of the 1963 show was "Out of This World."

Clinton Bats Red Sox Into American Lead

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

"The best strategy," Manager Johnny Pesky proclaimed, "is to have a 6-foot-4, 210-pounder step up to the plate, hope that he tips one — and he does."

So perhaps the Boston Red Sox manager was indulging in his favorite bit of deft maneuvering Thursday when, with two out, Lou Clinton doubled in two runs and put the Red Sox off and winging into the American League lead.

Red Sox right-hander Earl Wilson, staked to early lead, threw a two-hitter at Los Angeles and beat the Angels 3-0. When Cleveland edged Chicago 5-4 in a night game, the Red Sox took over the top spot .015 points ahead of the White Sox.

Baltimore blasted Washington 9-1 in the only other American League game scheduled.

In the National League, leading San Francisco fought off New York's Mets 6-5. The Chicago Cubs blanked Cincinnati 2-0. Milwaukee beat St. Louis 5-2. Philadelphia downed Houston 5-2 and Los Angeles blanked Pittsburgh 1-0.

Baltimore's Brooks Robinson drove in four runs and Jackie Brandt drove in three more as the Orioles blasted Washington and moved into third place, just one game back. Robinson, who has hit safely in 13 consecutive games, had three singles. Chuck Estrada won it, allowing only two hits before his elbow tightened and he left in the sixth.

Max Alvis had a home run leading off the last of the ninth, breaking a 4-4 tie at Cleveland and dropping the White Sox into second place. The homer was the first run scored off relief ace Jim Brown in 7-2-3 innings since Chicago obtained him from Cincinnati.

68 Entered in Country Club Meet

Sixty-eight golfers, the largest group of ever participate, qualified for the 1963 Hope Open Golf Tournament which will be played Sunday at Hope Country Club.

Henry Fenwick fired an even par 68 to lead the qualifiers and win the medalist trophy. Larry Bruce, Homer Beyerley, and Mitch LaGrone followed with 71s.

Mac McLarty broke into the championship flight for the first time with a 73 followed by Bob Parker, a newcomer to Hope, who had a 74.

Frank Carver, Gordon Bayless and district high school champ David Waddle each fired 75. Carver lost in a toss of a coin to determine the two players who will round out the championship flight.

The Hope Open is a stroke play tournament consisting of 18 holes. Summer rules will be in forced meaning that the ball may not be touched at anytime except on the tee and green, the only exception being when a ball comes to rest next to one of the small pine trees two inches or less in diameter and which interferes with the golfers swing in any way. In such a case the player may drop the ball directly behind without penalty. All putts must be holed out. There will be a two stroke penalty for violation of any of the above rules.

There will be a "shotgun" start at 12:45.

Richmond Clobbers Travs 5-3

RICHLAND, Va. (AP) — Richmond clobbered starting pitcher Bill Smith for four hits in the sixth inning before he got a man out, then added to his indignity by slamming two homers on successive pitches to down the Travelers 5-3 Thursday.

The loss left the Travelers a half-game behind in the southern division of the International League. Atlanta remained on top despite a 4-2 loss to Jacksonville.

The two teams meet tonight in the second of a two-game series. In other games Rochester downed Columbus 6-2 in 11 innings, Toronto whipped Buffalo 7-5 and Syracuse defeated Indianapolis 5-3.

No Practice of What He Preached

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner says New Yorkers do not get enough exercise.

"Most of us have gone soft," he told the second annual Conference on Physical Fitness Thursday. "We need to toughen up."

One hundred school pupils demonstrated exercises in front of City Hall after the mayor finished talking.

The mayor watched.

olis 8-4.

Richmond trailed 2-1 at the end of the fifth. Joe Durham singled, Fred Hopke and Tom Umphlett slammed homers, Don Budden rapped out a double and Bob Schmidt singled to make it a four-run inning.

Lee Ella homered for Arkansas in the third and relief pitcher Bob Locke put one over the fence in the seventh.

Only 535 persons watched the game, in cold and threatening weather.
